

Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT)

for Child Victims of Abuse: Organizational Perspectives

Friday, March 13, 2009

10am-2pm

Center for Alexandria's Children
1900 N. Beauregard • Suite 200 • Alexandria, VA

To RSVP

Email:
skennedy@centerforalexandriaschildren.org
by February 27, 2009

Who Should Attend?

- ◆ If your organization serves child victims of abuse.
- ◆ If you are committed to providing empirically validated treatment to the children you serve.
- ◆ If your organization employs therapists who provide mental health treatment for these children.
- ◆ If your organization regularly refers children that you work with to CSB and private therapists.

Why Should You Attend:

You will gain a greater understanding of how implementing this model will affect your organization. With the growing body of treatment outcome research, there is now increasing emphasis on the use of evidence-supported treatments (ESTs) with children who have been abused and traumatized and with their families. Organizations that provide mental health services for child victims of abuse and provide community leadership in mental health have an opportunity to ensure that all child victims of abuse receive the very best mental health interventions available.

This conference will describe:

- ◆ ESTs
- ◆ Issues in implementing ESTs
- ◆ How organizations serving child victims can obtain clinical training and implementation consultation in ESTs
- ◆ The challenges involved in identifying, disseminating, and implementing ESTs in service organizations
- ◆ Specific examples of ESTs-with an emphasis of TF-CBT-will be described and the implications for practice and risk management will be discussed.

Featuring

Elizabeth Thompson, Ph.D.
*Assistant Vice President, Director
Kennedy Krieger Institute Family Center
Baltimore, MD*

